

County and State Medical Society, and a Fellow of the American Medical Association.

JOHN GARDNER PERRY, M.D., 371 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, Mass.; graduated in medicine from Harvard Medical School, 1863; elected a Fellow of the Academy April 1, 1880; died December 3, 1926.

GLENWORTH REEVE BUTLER, M.D., A.M. (Hamilton College, 1880), Sc.D. (Hamilton College, 1904), F.S.Sc., LL.D., 226 Gates Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.; graduated in medicine from the Long Island College Hospital, 1880; elected a Fellow of the Academy October 5, 1893; died December 6, 1926. Dr. Butler was a member of the County and State Medical Society, a Fellow of the American Medical Association, a Fellow of the American College of Physicians, a Fellow of the American Climatological Association, a member of the Pathological Society, senior physician at Methodist Episcopal and Brooklyn Hospitals, consulting physician at Coney Island, Kingston Avenue, Long Island College, Bikur-Cholim, Zion, Portchester, Bushwick, Norwegian, Brownsville and East New York, and Broad Street Hospitals.

The following resolution was passed by the Council of the Academy at its meeting of December 22:

“Dr. Glentworth R. Butler was a loyal Fellow of The New York Academy of Medicine and Vice-President from 1911 to 1914. By his interest, pleasing manner and medical skill he soon forced his way to the top of the medical profession in Kings County. He was associated with the Brooklyn Hospital, the Long Island College Hospital, and was a teacher of note in the Long Island College Hospital Medical College. He was the author of text books and many other articles on medicine.

“The Council of The New York Academy of Medicine hereby records its sense of loss and desires that a copy of this minute be attached to the record of the proceedings of the Council and a copy published in the BULLETIN of the Academy and sent to the family of Dr. Butler.”
